

BRECKENRIDGE News.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1882.

WALLACE GRUELLE, . . . . . EDITOR.

For Governor.
Subject to the election of the Democratic Party.
Hon. J. PROCTOR KNOTT of Marion.

For Congress.
Hon. T. H. ROBERTSON, of Linn County.

RELIGIOUS.
Ohio's loud hosannas.

The patriot's heart of flame;
Sean Johnson's joyous choir.

WILLIAM H. BROWN'S
New York's hymn of triumph flour.

The thunder of Niagara's fall.

While Pennsylvania's happy shout.

Will sound above them all.

MAINE'S example was lost on Ohio.

To flat irony of love to have a laundress.

A hand-sign—signing another man's name
to a promissory note.

A noon many people look upon religion
as only a fire-escape.

The hang-up girl hangs both her hair
and piano world end.

TUNE is the year for the republicans to sit
by the waters of Babylon and lament.

It really begins to look as if we are going to have a democratic congress, after all.

The Muhlenberg Echo is doing better work for Haleel than any paper in the third district.

ARABIC red is the newest color.—[Fashion Note. Arab blue would be nearer the mark now.]

The people of the tenth district propose to send John D. White up Salt river by Adams Express.

INDIANA will follow in the footsteps of Ohio. This is an off-year—a year for flinging off republicanism.

BEN BETTERWORTH's blackguardism will hereafter take its exercise in George-street,
Cincinnati, instead of in congress halls.

WELL, well! The carryings-on in Ohio
last week were enough to make the Danville Tribune man drop his native state.

A nervous now before us of a certain desired president is so true to life that, in giving on it, one can almost see Albin-kist.

MR. ANSON SMITH, the republican candidate for congress in the second Cincinnati
district, found Jordan an impossible road
to travel.

Let them set up a Jacob's ladder to the gubernatorial chair, if they want to. Proctor Knott can climb it as easy as he can a carpet staircase.

In the Indiana district across the river from us, Kleiner is certain of election. He will beat Helmick from eight hundred to one thousand votes.

If Kentucky fails to send a solid democratic delegation to congress, she will deserve to be sent to the Anchorage asylum
and ducked to death.

The Georgia legislature came very near being transferred into a press association
at the recent election, sixteen editors having been elected to seats.

The democrats have hopes of Ohio and Indiana. Hope is a good thing.—[Philadelphia Sunday Mirror. So it is, smart, but certainty is a better thing.]

Our republican district committee have concluded not to put out a candidate for congress in this district. They will try,
however, to dictate the greenback nominees.

We see it stated that Craddock, of the Time Kentuckian, received a hurt the other day by jumping off a moving train. It is evident that he did not alight on his cheek.

DAYTON, Oct. 11.
DEAR GUELLE: You know I'm no gay deceiver;

We've played h—ll with 'em this time.

Yours, BEN LOFFLER.

The democratic triumph in Ohio was clearly the result of a conspiracy between the Devil and the Dutch to destroy the truly good Deacon Richard Smith's peace of mind.

WHEN you mention Ohio to a republican,
now he turns up his nose and begins singing:

"Puttis they grow small,
Over there."

The Lord once removed a good many sinners by turning on a flood of water. He now removes a good many more chief of them is Kehler, by turning on a flood of democratic voters.

The democrats only had to gain fourteen members to obtain control of the house of representatives. Ohio controls nine, Kentucky will throw in one, and Indiana
will produce the balance.

The benefit accruing from the introduction of the gospel into Ohio by Bro. Barnes was happily illustrated by the result of the election in that state last week. She went democratic from seed to result.

Our old friend McCarty, now of Paducah,
is a horse that has not forgotten or abandoned his coltish tricks. He attended the Cincinnati exposition and slept with the Cincinatti Journal's Mary Jane.

GOONZ D. WINE and John Amber Hullins, two Virginia idiots, are going to fight a duel with double-barreled shotguns later this week. It is to be hoped that each one will produce the manly enough to become a fool killer.

Mr. POOD, of Boston, claims that his wife is frozen in her maniacal fits. She was last seen in the hospital of the Cincinnati Journal that her husband has chilly feet. And thus the Paul Fidelity is frozen over and the rays of the sun of divorce invoked to thaw the ice
of matrimony.

THE OHIO ELECTION.

We do not agree with the republican papers who say that the sweeping democratic victory of last week in Ohio was brought about by an unfeeling contempt for democracy. The truth is that many votes were given to the democratic ticket because of the conservative temperance attitude of the republican organization in that state.
It is an unquestioned fact that the strong temperance strongholds in the Western Republican district returned the newest democratic vote.

The trouble is, the people have lost all confidence in the republican party. Its actions have always run counter to the positive declarations of its platforms. Always a blatant clamor for purity and honesty in governmental affairs, it has made of its public service one of the most notorious and least popular of all. Its recommendations have been for plunder and the perpetuation of its own power. Recognized leaders are shiftless demagogues, greedy place-hoppers, and unconscionable liars.

Consistency they know nothing of; honesty does not enter into their computations. That is an awful virtue to the republicans. These things, after years of incomprehensible blindness, the people have discovered to be true, and hence the revolt along the whole line.

When Governor Foster—a man who made the greater portion of his fortune at selling whisky by the pint and quart—overcame his scruples and sent his son to go down to the footlights in the character of a Beckley Doe, the temperance people distracted him. When he walked into a beer-garden disguised as a "lager" master, the German reformed to fraternize with him.
And hence both their reputations lost.
And hence the reason for the distrust of Foster
and his supporters more than of whisky.

The result of the congressional election
shows that the temperature issue had but little to do with the Ohio republican revolt. The question did not obtrude itself into the discussions of the candidates. The republicans had no platform, and hence had no
ticket and the state ticket and all supporters of that party congressional nominees with consistency. But they did not do so simply because it was their intention to repudiate republicanism. And they carried out that intention most handsomely. This is but the result of the break-up. By 1881
the republicans no longer had a platform
and will not change its name as in 1856. But the change will be in name only.
It will be only John Smith, the fugitive thief, sailing under the name of Tom Brown to throw the police off his track. Ohio has given the really concern the grand boulevard
and Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York will each give it a repudiating kick.

It was Wallace Gruelle of THE BRECK-ENRIDGE News, who published to his readers that Samson was who Samson was.
—[Hawley Democrat.] There's a good deal of the Hawley Democrat in the democratic campaign. Bro. Bush, of the民主ocrat, made a carbureton speech in our held in the democratic candidate. We took that speech down in shorthand and published it verbatim. And in it he compared the experienced and witty Georgetown with the giddy and inexperienced Hancock to Sampson—he always sticks "I'm in that name—and so it appeared in our paper,
knowledge being too limited to detect and correct the error. We noticed at the time that Frank Fraize (who is a friend of Dr. Adam Clarke) of the Cincinnati School) stepped around the corner and fainted. But we imagined that those various effects on those several gentlemen were produced by the exceedingly witty and dotes with Bro. Bush interlaced his speech. And it was not until our paper was printed that we discovered that Samson was concerned, who, it seemed, clearly announced
an alibi when brought up before the police court, proving by many witnesses that he was basely engaged taking honey in another house. But the republicans were not to be outdone, and recall that even prochein in town came to us with the corroboration of that ascertained in so far as Samson was concerned, who, it seemed, clearly announced

LOCAL BRETHREN.

The lumber men are busy.

The Milliners have this week.

J. D. Babbage has a good fare for sale.

The colored school here has six pupils.

Two weddings announced for next week.

Falsetto mustaches are the latest in men's wear.

Jimmy Wheeler wants today a good saddle horse.

Jack Marlow has sold his saw-mill to the Rooney Bros.

Remember Joe McGarry, Hardinsburg, for cheap groceries.

"How I wish I could have a regular matrimonial next week."

The costs in the bridge case, will be paid to five or six hundred dollars.

Irish potatoes are selling at 50 cents from store, and 40 cents from wagons.

There will be a marriage in the Elmwood Methodist Church Saturday night.

Miss McCarry, Hardinsburg, was every body's call on him for cheap groceries.

Breckenridge county lease to bracoo brought $20 and $7.00 last Thursday on the Louisville break.

The First Memorial chapel, just completed in Littleton, Boston, will be dedicated in two or three weeks.

One, a little nine-months-old daughter of Mr. J. C. McMillen, died last Wednesday of a congestive chill.

Mr. W. F. George commenced laying the foundation of his new brick dwelling house Monday.

Mr. Daniel Friel, living near Bennettville, is building an addition to his dwelling.

Mr. J. C. Clegg, of Louisville, is well.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Wren, all their work to be made of the best material and in a substantial, durable manner.

Dr. J. D. Bates will remain next week in his office in the city, and will be present to give to any dental or medical advice desired "with nestness and dispatch."

Circuit court adjourned Friday. It was a dull session. But few cases of dockets, and nearly all of those were minor.

Judge McNeath, of Leitchfield, is in town waiting for the up packet, which did not arrive until after 9 o'clock p. m.

We appreciate good fits, good material, and the best work. The best price for Boots and Shoes are as low as we can possible put them considering the character of material used.

McMILLEN & B. B.

Dr. Newson is taking an active part in the bridge case. He came down Sunday night, and got some of the most of the time.

His hair is rather graying and will be desired "with nestness and dispatch."

On the 20th instant, when Bill West came to give Kentucky Godfathers an answering feed, he left the animal on the door of the stable, swollen almost as large as an elephant, and growing as fast as a tree. Mr. McNeath, who was in the stable, was surprised to see him. He is in town sent for Mr. Lightfoot, who came, looked at the animal, and pronounced it as good as dead. And sure enough, in less than an hour, he was at the door of the stable, and lucky Godfathers was a swollen mass of crow's feet.

"I can save the shoes," said Bill, consulting, "You know."

"Some gloves and pull 'em off."

Bill did so, and as he piled them on the floor of the stable, remarked, "That's all."

He didn't count the day or week ownership of Kentucky Godfathers as any thing.

A GOLD MINE IN GRAYSON.

What a Visitor of Our Neighbors' Edition Brokebridge News:

MATTINSON, Oct. 17.—A visitor just arrived from the Gold and Wall mines, located in the mountains of Grayson, Kentucky, and found a fine stock of Millinary Goods and Notions ever brought to this city. Ladies and gentlemen, we have a fine stock of hats, and caps, and both good and durable by his sister, Mrs. H. V. Duncan.

Mrs. Cooper has just received a new Millinery and Notion store in the building adjoining and one door east of the hotel making his purchases, and is now receiving and opening the stock, which embraces every thing new, fresh and durable. Her establishment is well conducted by her sister, Mrs. H. V. Duncan.

Mr. Cooper has just received and opened a new Millinery and Notion store in the building adjoining and one door east of the hotel making his purchases, and is now receiving and opening the stock, which embraces every thing new, fresh and durable.

AN OYSTER STORY.

The Unsurpassed Illustrated Oyster & Oyster-Feast in the World.

San Francisco Chronicle.

I never found any thing but once here in excess of my expectations, or even approaching them, and that was the New York oysters. I had just then come from California, where oysters are very small and I imagined, naturally, to be found there at a time and always felt that I could eat more Oysters than I did. When I arrived at the Metropolitan Hotel, I ordered my dinner to be served in my room, and told the waiter to bring with dinner a strong cup of coffee and one small glass of oysters.

"Did I understand you to say one hundred oysters?"

"Yes," I answered, "raw, on the half shell, with vinegar, no lemons, and no onions, as you can, for I am very hungry."

"Ahem! Miss, do you want one hundred?"

"Yes, I do. What are you waiting for? Must I pay you that in advance? I want my bill bunged."

"No, no, no. All right, you shall have them." And he went out. I continued my writing, and forgot all about my dinner till he knocked and came in with it on a tray, but no oysters.

"How is this?" said I. "There are no oysters."

"Oh, come in, Miss, do's comin', and the door opened and in filed three more sons of Africa's larning sands, each with a big tray of oysters on the half shell." I was staggered, but only for a moment, for I saw the waiters were grinning, so I quickly dined them to put one tray on a chair, one on the washstand, and one on the bed, and said,

"They are very small, aren't they?"

"Oh, no, Miss. Do's be very large's we got."

"Very well," said I, "you can go. I'll want any more I'll ring."

When they got out into the hall, one said to the other:

"Poor God! Do's they call all themo-ter in the world d'you know?"

I did not feel hungry any longer. I drank my coffee and headed at the oysters, every one of them as big as my hand, and they all seemed looking at me with their horrible white faces and out of their one diabolical eye to me. I could have eaten one any more than I could have carried up a live baby. They were at most a foot long, and the wretched waiters were small, and with no more individual character about them than grains of rice, but these detestable creatures were instant with evil intentions, and I dared not swallow one for fear of the disturbances they might raise in my interior, so I set about getting rid of them. For I was never going to give them a chance to get into my stomach. I drew over the keyhole after I had locked the door, and just outside my window found a tin water spout that had a hole in it. I carefully enlarged it and then slew all but one of these hideous creatures down into it, and then, with a good deal of difficulty, I got the water out of the spout and finished my dinner in peace, and then rang for the waiters. You should have seen their faces! One of the waiters asked if I had I would have some more. May he never know the internal pang he inflicted upon me, but I replied, coldly:

"Not now. I think too many at once might be hurtful."

BIG SPRING.

Nothing has occurred to mar the peace and quiet of our little village, since I wrote last, save a slight accident of Mr. and Mrs. Kinnaird, of whom Mr. and Miss Alice are now of Breckinridge County. They left on Sunday last for Cynthiana, Ind., where they were uniting in the holy bonds of matrimony. They returned to-day.

There have been two deaths here, which might have been chronicled a week ago. First, Mr. H. J. White, in the 79th year of his age. He died while crossing a field on his way to a neighbor's house. The announcement of the death of this good and popular man caused many hearty sighs and tears. Uncle John, a member of the family called, had been afflicted long and surely in many ways. He had lived a long and useful life, was honored by many and loved by all who knew him. To him, the thought of having to cross death's dark river, was not unpleasant, and that he would come in the presence of His Master was a comfort to us all, and also gave him great hope. He died with his wife's money to get a western divorce, in order to marry a wealthier woman.

The London Lancet advocates stockings made like gloves to prevent corns.

An Alabama man invented a patent tail for cows which would knock the flies into the air. The next summer, and the first in which he sold it, he was a milking it himself, and the flies were gone.

He had to pay for his invention.
